Investment Philosophy

Adviser uses fundamental security analysis to identify and purchase shares of companies that are believed to be selling below their intrinsic value. The Adviser looks for companies whose market prices are below what a corporate or entrepreneurial buyer would be willing to pay for the entire business. They intend to hold securities for an average of 3 to 5 years under normal market conditions.

² Current and future portfolio holdings are subject to risk.

³ Reflects reinvested distributions and the beneficial effect of any expense reduction and does not guarantee future results.

Mutual Fund investing involves risk, and principal loss is possible. Performance can be affected by market and investment style risk. The Fund's investments in small- and mid-capitalization companies could experience greater volatility than investments in large-capitalization companies. Price/Earnings ratio (P/E ratio) is a valuation ratio of a company's current share price compared to its per-share earnings. P/E equals a company's market value per share divided by earnings per share. Forecasted P/E is not intended to be a forecast of the fund's future performance. Annual Turnover Ratio is the percentage of the fund's assets that have changed over the last twelve months. Mutual funds with higher turnover ratios tend to be less tax efficient and have higher transactional costs. The investment performance assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions. The S&P 1500[®] Index includes all stocks in the S&P 500[®], S&P 400[®], and S&P 600[®]. This index covers 90% of the market capitalization of U.S. stocks. Indexes do not incur fees and it is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Buy Discipline

Adviser favors companies with:

- Favorable stock price in relation to free cash flow, earnings, dividends, book value and asset value
- Large-cap domestic companies with fortress-type balance sheets
- Catalysts including changes in operations, management, capital allocation, strategies or product offerings, which have a favorable impact on shareholder value

Sell Discipline

Stocks are sold when:

- Price exceeds our estimate of intrinsic value
- Company fails to achieve expected financial results
- Economic factors or competitive developments adversely impair the company's value
